AGUILAR SELECTED AS TEXO'S LATINO CONSTRUCTION SUPERSTAR

DALLAS, TEXAS (October 17, 2011) – Satterfield & Pontikes Construction, Inc. (S&P) has announced that Luis Aguilar was named Latino Construction Superstar of the Month for October by TEXO. In addition to this selection for his outstanding job performance, Aguilar was invited to be part of the first Latino Safety Committee sponsored by TEXO.

Aguilar, a construction foreman for S&P, directs many of the company's self-perform work crews. Aguilar was recognized for his excellent performance on many of S&P's Dallas-area projects, including Birdville ISD's Haltom High School as well as Dallas ISD's Adamson High School, Kathlyn Joy Gilliam Collegiate Academy and Kennedy-Curry Middle School.

TEXO is the construction association representing commercial contractors in North and East Texas. TEXO is the largest commercial contractors association in Texas and one of the largest affiliated with the national Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc. (ABC) and The Associated General Contractors of America (AGC).

Aguilar has earned the respect of S&P work crews that he directs as well as company supervisors and executives. "Luis is a team player on any jobsite. His wide knowledge of all aspects of construction and safety make him a superstar," stated S&P Superintendent John Morrow. "I haven't met anyone better at managing a crew while focusing on safety, cost and schedule. His ability to read and understand drawings is exceptional, to say the least. No task is too large for Luis to handle."

A self-starter with a strong drive to learn, Aguilar emigrated from Mexico, obtained permanent U.S. residency status and is working to achieve U.S. citizenship. Aguilar's extensive construction experience includes rough and finish carpentry, concrete finishing, iron work and equipment operator. He often supervises S&P crews of 30 or more workers.
